2.4kVA Yamaha EF2400iS

The EF2400iS is a model that brings the reliable Yamaha inverter technology used on the highly acclaimed EF2800i to the 2kVA class. Not only is it super-quiet (52-59dB @ 7m), it only weights 32kg and produces 2400W of maximum power.

Cleaner, quieter, and more powerful, the EF2400iS is the next step forward in generator technology.

The EF2400iS has been built to clear the US EPA Phase II and CARB Tier II emission standards (the world's strictest), as well as the 2002/88/EC standard of Europe and Japan's LEMA standard. They also boast a 97.1% recycle-ability ratio, all of which adds up to make this a very environmentally-friendly model.

The aluminium die-cast frame provides easy access to the oil filler cap and air filter, and easier access for oil changes and other servicing.

The parallel use function means the capacity to connect two of the same specification and operate them together to provide quality electricity with a maximum output of roughly double that of the single unit, while retaining the same voltage and frequency.

The Yamaha-specification cable makes it possible to run appliances or loads too heavy for one generator, without any special operations or setting adjustment.
